Fee Range: $10,001 - $15,000

Terry Savage tells the "savage truth" when it comes to the American economy, business policy, and financial markets. She has devoted her career to helping organizations and individuals better understand the economic policies coming out of Washington and better plan for the future. She is a regular contributor to TheStreet.com and Moneyshow.com, the popular investing websites, and co-hosts a daily two-hour morning television show in Chicago on CBS-TV, featuring talk about money, the markets, business and sports.

Savage's financial expertise comes from experience: she started her career as a stockbroker and became a founding member - and the first woman trader - on the Chicago Board Options Exchange. She has served on the boards of some of America's largest corporations, including McDonald's Corporation for 14 years and Pennzoil-Quaker State Corporation for 5 years. Savage currently serves on the board of directors of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME).

The author of a weekly syndicated column for the Chicago Sun Times, Savage presents witty, entertaining, and thought provoking commentary on the financial issues that will challenge your business and change your future. Will the United States survive the current recession, or will it be a double dip? What impact will Washington's taxation and spending policies have? Should your organization be planning for future inflation-or will deflation rule? Savage digs deep into the concerns of American businesses, with unbiased and uncomplicated strategies and solutions. Her on-air experience makes her an ideal moderator for panel discussions, debates, or entire events. With presentations customized for each audience, Savage's financial acumen is a welcome resource in complicated economic times.

Savage is a frequent guest on national radio and television shows ranging from PBS' Nightly Business Report to CNN and CNBC. She's appeared several times on Oprah and she's the regular substitute host of the nationally syndicated Bob Brinker radio show on ABC radio. She is the author of five books, with her latest, The Savage Truth on Money, Second Edition, recently released. Her third book, The Savage Number: How Much Money Do You Need to Retire?, hit the "Top 20" list on Amazon, and her earlier best-seller, The Savage Truth on Money, was named one of the "10 Best Money Books of the Year" by Amazon. Savage has won numerous awards, including the National Press Club award for Outstanding Consumer Journalism, and the Outstanding Personal Finance Columnist award given by the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University and two Emmys for her television work.
